C. OF C. FUTURE UP TO TOWN, SHERMAN SAYS

The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce decided Tuesday evening to make one more drive for members, to determine whether or not Gettysburg wants a Chamber of Commerce, and if the drive is a failure—to "quit trying to run a Chamber with only a handful of members."

President Mares Sherman pointed out to the 13 members present at the monthly dinner meeting at Mrs. Smith's restaurant, Chambersburg street, that "the question is whether or not Gettysburg wants a Chamber of Commerce. If the town does not want a Chamber why should we as a handful take our part and try to put things across that we can't do without the help of the town."

Has 32 Members

"Two years ago a number of persons asked for membership meetings, and so we had monthly meetings that year and this year. People claimed if they knew what was going on, if they could attend meetings, they would join, but here we are at the same place, with only 13 members present tonight."

"The Chamber has only 32 members and it cannot function with that small membership."

"Personally, I can't see how the town can get along without a Chamber of Commerce particularly at this time when things are no longer handed to us on a platter but must be sought out and secured by an interested group."

Total Lack of Support

"The Chamber is designed to advertise the town yet many seem not to want to advertise it. But big industries spend millions to advertise products that they cannot produce at the present time in order to keep their name before the public until victory because they know that only in that way can they hope to have people buy their products after the war is over."

Lack of financial support was pointed out by President Sherman as not the greatest problem of the Chamber, "it is the lack of any support whatsoever." There are at least 239 business or professional men in the town who should be members of the Chamber, Sherman claimed.

Vote to Continue

"One of the greatest difficulties of the Chamber is the lack of support by the doctors and lawyers of the town. In other communities the lawyers and doctors are usually the heads of the Chambers, but here we have only one doctor in the organization. Yet if the community is not prosperous the doctors and lawyers are in as bad shape as anyone else," Sherman continued.

The 13 members present voted to continue the Chamber after the question was put by President Sherman. One member pointed out that "it is more necessary than ever to have a Chamber now to act as a foundation when things open up again. Most people are employed now and most businesses are prosperous. Those in business today are doing more business than ever, with the exception of a few."

"But such times will not always continue, and it will be necessary to keep the Chamber together to lay plans for after the war when it will be absolutely necessary to have some group engaged in advertising the town."

Other persons in the file will be called for later dances.

J. F. HERTING, HURT IN CRASH SUNDAY, DIES

John F. Herting, 73, Biglerville R. 2, near Arendtsville, died in the Warner hospital this morning at 6:55 o'clock following an auto accident in Arendtsville last Sunday noon in which he was badly injured.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, conducted an investigation and attributed death to hypostatic congestion of the lungs and shock. He stated today that inasmuch as Mr. Herting was the driver of the car and only one car was involved in the accident no inquest will be held.

Mr. Herting was driving his car home after attending church services in Arendtsville on Sunday when he is reported to have stepped on the accelerator instead of the brake and his car crashed into a tree in front of the home of Bernard Kimpke. He was admitted to the hospital Sunday afternoon suffering from a broken nose and broken ribs.

Three other occupants of the car are confined to the hospital. Mrs. Herting is suffering from cerebral concussion, contusions of the chest, a laceration of the left leg and fractures of both thighs. Mrs. Edward Orner, Arendtsville, received a fracture of the left shoulder and Mrs. Annie Lady, Arendtsville, has a fractured nose, broken ribs and a fracture of the right thigh.

Was Carpenter, Farmer

The deceased was born and always lived in Adams county, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Herting. He was a carpenter for 25 years and prior to that was a farmer. Mr. Herting was a former school director and supervisor of Butler township. He was a member of Trinity Lutheran church, Arendtsville.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Clara A. Bittinger, to whom he was married 43 years; two sons, Philip E. Houston, Texas, and G. Claire, Sunbury.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. A. R. Longanecker. Interment in Greenmont cemetery, Arendtsville. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening after 7 o'clock.

Growers Believe Peach Loss Heavy; Apples "Promising;" Hear New Farm Labor Plans

The 1943 apple crop in Adams county looks "reasonably promising" but a large part of the peach crop and possibly half of the expected cherry yield has been frozen, it was estimated Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Fruit Growers' association at which the growers heard outlined the general plans for the new farm-labor setup this year in Adams county under the State College Extension-service.

The crop estimates were given by County Agent M. T. Hartman who said that many low peach orchards in the county are entirely barren of fruit buds this spring—presumably because they were frozen in the record sub-zero weather last December. Orchards on high ground came through safely or with minor damage, he indicated.

Mr. Hartman came to the meeting directly from a State College conference Tuesday morning and afternoon at which the new Emergency Farm Labor Assistance program—turned over to the Extension service at the direction of Congress—was outlined.

To Cut "Red Tape"

Voluntary leadership will direct the program, Hartman explained, and added that before May 12 the present executive committee of the

GHS BAND WILL PLAY CONCERT HERE SATURDAY

Gettysburg high school's 40-piece band will render a half-hour concert in Memorial Field, at the college, Saturday afternoon preceding the opening of the "Americanism Day" exercises and the parade and review of the 55th College Training Detachment, Army Air Corps, it was announced today. The band will be under the direction of Professor E. S. Longanecker, director.

In addition to the concert, to be rendered while the crowd is arriving at the stadium for the exercises, the band will play "The Star Spangled Banner," immediately following the invocation by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college. It will also play the accompaniment for the solo, "God Save the King," national anthem of Australia, to be sung, by Elmer Smith, member of the Air Corps unit here.

Field Music to Play

For the parade and review of the unit by Lady Dixon the 55th College Training Detachment field music of 14 pieces will play. This unit was organized by and is made up entirely of members of the Air Corps unit and plays for all the official appearances of the Detachment.

Lady Dixon, wife of the Australian minister to the United States, will deliver a brief "Americanism Day" address and will present a "Certificate of Achievement" to each of the 110 members of the first graduating class of the Detachment. Presentation of the certificates will take place immediately after Lady Dixon reviews the unit.

Colonel William S. Culbertson, member of the Army General Staff and former United States Ambassador to Chile, will introduce Lady Dixon.

Adams County Agricultural Extension association will name a new farm labor committee representing the entire county. That new committee will determine policies, handle labor recruiting and may set up camps. An office will be established and federal funds will be used to employ necessary part or full-time personnel.

Only farm labor will be handled by the new committee. Labor for industry and fruit and vegetable processing plants will remain the problem of the U. S. Employment Service, it was explained.

Mr. Hartman declared every effort will be made to eliminate unnecessary "red tape." He warned that inexperienced help may have to be used and that some training program for the new farm workers may be instituted.

National crop estimates were given the fruitmen by John Watson, representative of the Appalachian Apples corporation who appeared as the substitute for Carroll Miller, secretary of the organization. Miller was called to Washington on price ceiling parleys and could not attend the Biglerville session, Watson said.

Captain 'Ted' Thomas In Majestic Picture

Capt. Edmund W. Thomas, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, West Lincoln avenue, was an occupant of the "Mary Ann," the Flying Fortress which is featured in "Air Force," the attraction at the Majestic theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, for several scenes during the filming of the picture at Drew Field, Florida.

Capt. Thomas flew in other planes in formations during several sequence filmings but due to many re-takes it is impossible to identify his particular plane.

In a recent letter to Sydney J. Poppa, manager of the Majestic, Capt. Thomas told of having talked with John Garfield, George Tobias, Harry Carey and John Ridgely, all of whom have leading parts in the picture.

I.O.O.F. MARKS ANNIVERSARY

Commemorating the one hundred twenty-fourth anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in the United States—which took place in Baltimore, April 26, 1819—Gettysburg lodge No. 124, IOOF held special exercises in their lodge rooms, Tuesday evening.

Following the regular business session of the lodge, Samuel G. Sollenberger, chairman of the anniversary committee, spoke briefly on the founding of the order. The invocation was given by the Rev. Howard S. Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Reformed church. The "Star Spangled Banner" was sung and two accordeon solos, "I Would Be True" and "Nearer My God to Thee," were presented by Miss Doris Rudisill.

A quartet including the Rev. Mr. Fox, Clarence Nuss, William Swisher and Donald Myers sang "Have Thine Own Way" and "Though Your Sins Be as Scarlet." The accompanist was Miss Alice M. Snyder.

The Rev. Mr. Fox was the guest speaker and based his remarks concerning friendship, one of the cardinal principles of the order, upon the story of Jonathan and David.

Other musical entertainment followed and included: Violin duets, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," and "Dream of the Shepherds" by Clarence Nuss and William Swisher. Miss Snyder accompanied. The program was concluded by the singing of "God Bless America" led by the violinists; the playing of "America the Beautiful" by Miss Rudisill, and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Fox. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

PFEFFER IS NEW HEAD OF LOCAL RATION BOARD

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer was appointed chairman of the Gettysburg War Price and Rationing board at a re-organization meeting of the group held Tuesday evening at the local offices on North Washington street. The burgess succeeds Dr. H. C. Allemen, chairman of the board since its inception, who resigned last week because of ill health.

The board, recently increased to 12 members, was divided into four panels of three persons each at the reorganization, with separate panels set up for tires, gasoline, fuel oil and tractor gasoline, and processed foods, meats and fats.

S. L. Allison, Fairfield; Robert Garretson, Flora Dale, and the Rev. A. R. Longanecker, Gettysburg, were selected for the tires panel. Burgess Pfeffer, Paul Rohrbaugh, Gettysburg, and Warren K. Enck, Biglerville, were named to the gasoline panel; C. A. Heiges, Gettysburg; A. C. Keefe, McKnightstown and B. B. S. Bowers, Mt. Joy township, were selected for the fuel oil and tractor gasoline panel and Mrs. Anna Plank, Gettysburg; H. W. Knouse, Bendersville, and Luther M. Lady, Biglerville, were appointed to the processed foods, meats and fats panel.

Expect Improved Results

According to tentative arrangements the entire group will meet once a week, usually on Mondays. The gasoline panel will meet every morning. The fuel oil and tractor gas and the processed foods panels will meet every other day, or every day if necessary while the tires panel will meet once a week.

It was pointed out that the new set-up will secure better results for the persons being served by the board because members of each panel can become expert in their particular line of rationing, whereas under the former system a few members had to know and act on every type of rationing.

WEANERS GIVEN $5,850 VERDICT IN COURT TODAY

An Adams county jury this afternoon awarded Edgar W. and Margaret J. Weaner $5,850 for damage to their property in Straban township along the Lincoln highway caused by the re-location of the Western Maryland railroad.

The verdict was read when court reconvened this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The jury had completed its deliberations at 12:20 o'clock and then sealed the verdict to await the re-opening of court. Forrest Bream, Gardeners, was foreman of the jury.

The case was an appeal from the award of a board of view in which the board offered the Weaners $4,700 for the damage caused to two farms. The Western Maryland railroad, Adams county and the state highway department all pay a share of the damages caused by the re-location.

The Weaner jury retired at 11:25 o'clock this morning.

Testimony in the case began on Tuesday morning. The jurors had visited the farms owned by Mr. and Mrs. Weaner along the Lincoln highway on Monday.

Immediately after the Weaner jury retired, the court began the appeal of Samuel K. Osborne from the award of viewers on damages to his property caused by the railroad relocation.

Ask New Trial

The Osborne case is the last of a series of six appeals from the awards of the viewers in the relocation of the railroad. One of the cases was ended Tuesday when jurors returned a verdict in the case of Frank R. and Dulcie Heverly. A motion for a new trial and arrest of judgment was filed by the Heverlys' attorney, John P. Butt, Esq., on Tuesday. ALLIED FORCES CONTINUE SLOW AFRICAN DRIVE

By ROGER GREENE (Associated Press War Editor)

Allied headquarters announced today that American troops stormed and captured three bitterly defended hills on the road to Bizerte in northern Tunisia while British First Army forces attacked a key height at Medjerda village only 21 miles from Tunis, the capital.

With the hour of decision fast approaching, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's command said the Allies made "steady progress" in savage fighting yesterday.

American and French troops punched deeper into both the northern and southern hill barriers of the Tunis-Bizerte zone, and the British Eighth Army again surged forward after resting from its whirlwind drive up the coast from the Mareth line.

Both the German and Italian communiques asserted that repeated Allied attacks, launched with intense artillery fire and strong tank support, failed to dent the Axis defenses, but the Germans stressed the "heavy and embittered fighting."

Nearing Capital

The British First Army had advanced two miles in its thrust to Medjerda village, marking the closest approach to the capital, and was apparently in position for an attack on Tebourba, 18 miles northwest of Tunis.

The communique indicated that the Germans, fighting desperately to prevent being split into two pockets, were putting up stiffer resistance on the central front guarding the open plain before Tunis.

"Fighting in the Medjerda-Bab sector has been hard, attack being followed by counterattack, throughout the day," the Allied war bulletin said.

Medjerda-el-Bab lies 34 miles southwest of Tunis.

In the north, the communique said, troops of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's American Second Army Corps again made "good progress" in the hills within 28 miles of the Bizerte naval base. French troops in the same general area were reported within 20 miles of Bizerte, near the eastern shores of Lake Achkel.

On Other Fronts

In the south, the French were officially credited with rolling up gains of more than 15 miles in the last three days in the region of Pont du Fahs, southwestern gateway to Tunis.

World developments at-a-glance: Air War—Allied heavy bombers again hit Bari airdrome on Italy's Adriatic coast; RAF home-based raiders give Germany overnight respite.

Russia—Soviet guns blast Nazi defenses "west of Rostov," may be hammering long-held German base at Taganrog.

Southwest Pacific—General MacArthur's bombers blast two 4,000-ton Japanese ships, wreck enemy wireless station.

FINAL VICTORY IS STAKE IN WAR IN NORTH AFRICA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Someone remarked to me that the 66,000 Germans and Italians, announced by Commander in Chief Eisenhower's headquarters as killed, wounded or captured in north Africa between January 1 and April 15, don't make a very big total as compared with the eight million or so troops which Hitler still has under arms.

It might seem that way at a glance but I'm afraid we can't estimate the position accurately by such a comparison. We mustn't forget that the strategic importance of this theater is so great that we should have seen a million men battling on each side, had circumstances permitted the employment of such huge armies there.

I take the liberty of repeating the vital fact that he who controls the Mediterranean wins the war. That's the stake for which the comparatively small armies are battling in Tunisia.

Actually the 66,000 loss of the Axis represents something like twenty-five per cent of the enemy's effective. We can't be exact about that, because some reinforcements have reached Rome from Italy. However, if Hitler had lost a comparable total out of a million-man army in Russia it would run to about a quarter of a million—perhaps more because of the massing of larger forces. When you get down to cases, 66,000 first-line troops are a very big loss for any army, no matter how large.

Won't Fight Again

There's a limit to the number of men that can be used in a territory like north Africa. In the desert areas the water supply in itself forms a terrific problem. In fact supply and transport in all categories present unusual difficulties.

One of the most important lessons of the African show is that the Allies are winning through a process of annihilation of the Axis forces and destruction of their equipment. By annihilation I mean putting the enemy completely out of action.

There could be no end to the show so long as General Montgomery and his British Eighth Army were playing fox and hounds with Rommel about the desert. That's why the general strained every nerve to crowd the elusive Nazi into a corner and make him fight. Men who run away live to fight another day. The only beaten ones are the dead, badly wounded and captured.

Must Wipe Out Nazis

We have "annihilated" a quarter of the Axis forces in Tunisia. We shall have achieved victory when we have every last German and Italian actually in our hands, or under the Tunisian sands. That's the only way battles can be won.

When we've finished with Africa we shall have to start applying that same cold-blooded, hard-as-nails truism to Herr Hitler on the continent. The most powerful weapon he has left is his army. That army must be cornered and annihilated, and no man will be in position to guess the end of the war until Allied armies actually invade western Europe in force and corner the Fuehrer, just as he has been cornered in Tunisia.

Line On Hitler's Future

Authoritative British circles recently estimated the German Army at between 7,500,000 and 8,000,000. Presumably that would include not only fighting men but all the services. It isn't as good as the fighting machine with which he started the war, because he is estimated to have lost at least 5,000,000, and they represented many of his best troops. Still, the present army has great striking power, and some half million young Germans are coming off fighting age yearly.

While that Army remains mobile, and isn't compelled to stand and fight unless it wants to, Hitler may be able to continue the war indefinitely. You will begin to get a line on his length of life the day the Anglo-American troops get ashore across the English channel and establish their bridgehead for the armies to follow.

Anthracite Offer Not Acted Upon

New York, April 28 (AP)—The proposal of Pennsylvania anthracite operators for extension of the contract and negotiations without a retroactive clause has not been acted upon, spokesmen for the operators and the United Mine Workers said.

Conferees in the wage negotiations covering approximately 80,000 hard coal miners meet again today at 10 a. m. The current contract is scheduled to expire next Friday.

Following the recess yesterday, Thomas Kennedy, UMW secretary-treasurer, and Ralph Taggart, operators' spokesman, said the operators' proposal had been lying on the table for days.

PACIFIST LABEL PUT ON COUNCIL

Pittsburgh, April 28 (AP)—The American Council of Christian Churches opened its first annual meeting here with a charge that the long established Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America is refusing to "renounce a tradition of pacifism and actively further the war effort."

Dr. Arthur T. Williams, pastor of the First Baptist Church of New York, made the statement yesterday, adding that the Federal Council still "practically dominates control of appointments of Army and Navy chaplains."

Doctor Williams added, however, that "because of the pacifist viewpoint" which he charged had been "furthered" by the Federal Council for many years, it is unable to supply its quota of chaplains.

Attacks Federal Council
Dr. H. McCallister Griffiths, executive secretary of the American Council, said the fundamental teachings of Christianity do not indiscriminately condemn war and he attacked the Federal Council for what he termed its failure, even a year after Pearl Harbor, to place itself militantly on the side of the United Nations' victory over the Axis.

The council was formed a little more than a year ago to win organized Protestant church groups away from the Federal Council. It reported it now represents 10 Protestant groups whose membership is between one-half and one million persons. The Federal Council claims representation of more than 20,000,000.

London, April 28 (AP)—Two British destroyers, attacking "an unusually large number" of German escort craft in convoy off the coast of Brittany before dawn today, torpedoed and probably sank two supply vessels, and almost certainly sank two of the escorts and caused a motor torpedo boat to blow up with their shell fire, the admiralty announced today.

Report Plans For Diplomatic Exchange

(By The Associated Press)
A German transoceanic news agency dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio today and recorded by The Associated Press said that Chilean diplomats and several United States citizens interned in Japan would be exchanged for Japanese now interned in Chile, the transfer to take place at Lourenco Marques, in neutral Portuguese East Africa.

The dispatch, datelined Santiago, quoted a Swedish charge d'affaires who is handling Japan's interests in Chile, as saying that Spanish ships will sail to Rio de Janeiro or Buenos Aires to pick up the Japanese internees, while the Gripsholm, a Swedish steamer, will go to Japan to get the Chilean and United States nationals.

"Terrific Shortage" Of Meat In Phila.

Philadelphia, April 28 (AP)—Three out of four of Philadelphia's smaller markets had no meat for sale today and a "terrific" shortage next week-end was predicted by the Retail Meat Dealers association.

An association spokesman said western packers are refusing to ship meat into southeastern Pennsylvania because, in the absence of livestock ceilings, they are losing up to six cents a pound on all animals slaughtered.

Ickes Bars Extra Gas For Western Pa.

Washington, April 28 (AP)—Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes said today the gasoline supply situation in western Pennsylvania does not permit further relaxation of gasoline rationing in that area.

Ickes originally ruled on March 11 against removing western Pennsylvania from the eastern gasoline shortage area, but promised at that time to again review the situation in mid-April.

"NO CONTRACT, NO WORK" WIRES TELL LEADERS

Pittsburgh, April 28 (AP)—Scores of locals in the United Mine Workers today telegraphed President John L. Lewis that their members would refuse to work after Friday midnight unless the soft coal operators sign a contract granting them a $2 a day pay raise.

"No contract, no work. We are behind you 100 per cent," read telegrams dispatched by at least 60 locals from the central, Number 2 district, of the miners' union.

"We are not going to work without a contract," asserted John L. Harris, president of Local 1190 at the Ellsworth mine of the Industrial (Bethlehem Steel) collieries, in a statement.

Meanwhile approximately 20,000 of Pennsylvania's 125,000 softcoal workers remained idle, with a few more mines apparently near closing.

"Roving Pickets"
Strangely, the usually tumultuous Fayette county district, scene of most of the outbreaks of violence in mine disturbances during the past decade, was operating almost 100 per cent.

A survey disclosed every mine operating there, excepting the small Brownsville Junction works of the Republic Steel corporation. Two shifts at the Bridgeport mine of the H. C. Frick (U. S. Steel) Coke company have not worked in the past 48 hours, but the night shift reported last night, as it did the night before.

Frick reported many absences at its Maxwell, Gates and Palmer mines, all near the Monongahela river.

There were numerous reports that the "river men"—miners who work along the Monongahela river, where the first walkouts started last week—were planning to dispatch squads of "roving pickets" to discuss work stoppages.

8 DIE IN NAVY PLANE CRASH

Oakland, Calif., April 28 (AP)—A Navy twin-engine transport plane nosed into a hill 10 miles east of the Oakland airport and exploded last night, killing eight of the ten men aboard and seriously injuring the other two.

The explosion scattered bodies over a 60-foot area. Clipped tree trunks and torn earth indicated the ship had skidded a like distance from the point of impact.

The plane was headed into Oakland airport and apparently on the beam. A wingtip scraped near the top of the 1,500-foot cliff, spinning the craft to earth.

"If it had been only 30 or 40 feet higher or about the same distance farther west it would have missed the hill," said Carl Bigelow, Oakland Tribune photographer who was one of the first civilians to reach the scene.

Withhold Names
Bigelow said many of the bodies were badly burned. One of the injured men was able to talk to stretcher bearers who carried him down the steep incline. "He tucked both hands under his head and seemed to be in fairly good shape," the photographer related.

The Navy was terse in its announcement, withholding names of the dead and injured until next of kin have been notified.

Two Deaths During Test Blackout

Newark, N. J., April 28 (AP)—A 14-year-old boy was shot to death and an air raid warden collapsed and died during last night's practice blackout, New Jersey's second this month.

Arnold Solof, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Solof, Millville, was shot through the chest. Dr. H. G. Miller, Cumberland county physician, listed the death as "accidental."

Solof was with two companions, returning from shooting rats with 22 caliber rifles.

In Atlantic City, air-raid warden William Huegel, 40, died while on duty.

Deputy State Civilian Defense Director Becker Jamison said the test was "a considerable improvement over the last test, April 9."

BOND TOTAL RISES

Philadelphia, April 28 (AP)—With $3,500,000 in war bonds purchased yesterday, the city was within seven per cent of its $400,000,000 goal in the Second War Loan campaign which ends Saturday. The figure for the Third Federal Reserve district, which includes eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware, stood at $642,216,300 out of a $707,000,000 quota.

Fruit Growers

Georgia, Virginia and Maryland at from 10 to 25 per cent of normal while those of Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey as "better" than the southern states but below the 1942 volume. The midwestern peach crop also is light, he indicated.

Apple yields are expected to be heavy this year in the west while the midwestern will double or triple 1942 production, he said. Eastern states will range from 50 per cent less than the '42 yield in Virginia to a 10 per cent cut in New York. Pennsylvania's apple crop is estimated at 80 per cent of the 1942 volume, he reported.

Order War Bonds

He said the Appalachian Apples organization and the National Apple Planning committee again will seek tin allotments to can fruits in this area if such action is regarded as necessary. Fruit drying and the use of tin containers will relieve somewhat the need for tin, he stated.

Watson said the National Apple Planning committee has told the government it opposes a ceiling price on apples as "unworkable" but if the government insists on setting a price the committee has offered its assistance with the recommendation that a single top price for fancy grade fruit of top variety be fixed and let "supply and demand" set prices for other grades and varieties under that ceiling.

The first speaker Tuesday evening was Edmund W. Thomas, county chairman for the War Bond and Stamp drive. He explained the importance and purpose of the Second War Loan campaign and described various issues offered.

The growers voted to use approximately half of the $300 balance in the association's treasury to buy War Bonds.

Insect, Disease Reports

Harold M. Steiner of the Arendtsville laboratory staff discussed orchard insect conditions. He urged the fruitmen to check on red mite infestation and, if necessary, to apply an early summer spray for their control. He said recent warm weather has brought out aphid parasites in great numbers and helped reduce the aphid population that a week ago endangered the apple crop. The earlier cool weather aided the aphids, he said. More than twice as much peach curculio has been seen this year than last, he reported.

Dr. George L. Zundel, pathologist from State College, urged the orchardists to get good spray coverage before bloom to control apple scab this year. He suggested an extra spray for fire blight in orchards where that disease is a problem.

Flowers for Grief

County Agent Hartman urged the growers to arrange for extra bees in their orchards this spring as an aid to pollination. About 450 pounds of package bees already have been brought into the county for that purpose, he said.

It was announced that Robert C. Lott, association vice president, George Raffensperger, a past president, will select the growers' representatives for the annual election of trustees at State College on June 11.

The growers directed a message of "best wishes" and flowers be sent their president, Frederic E. Griest, who is a patient in the Warner hospital.

Vice President Lott presided.

Athletics Nose Out Senators 2-1 In Longest Major League Game Of Season

NEITHER TEAM ABLE TO SCORE FOR 15 FRAMES

By JUDSON BAILEY
AP Sports Writer

Baseball is having plenty of woes—the dead ball, poor attendance and the constant drain of the draft—but if you will wipe away this war-time tarnish for a few minutes you will discover a lot of lustre among the unsung rookies of the major leagues.

The early season has been occupied chiefly with a discussion of the game's disappointments and a glance at the proceedings yesterday will explain easily why this has left the newcomers obscured. They don't come under the heading of disappointments.

Tuesday's tightest struggle was a 16-inning marathon which the Philadelphia Athletics finally won from the Washington Senators 2-1 after both teams had gone scoreless for 15 frames. The star was Jesse Sandoval Flores, a stocky, 26-year-old Mexican who came up to the A's this spring from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league.

Flores Takes Honors
In his first start last Thursday he held the Boston Red Sox to two hits but was beaten 1-0 by Tex Hughson, who pitched a three-hitter in rebuttal. Yesterday Flores was matched with Early Wynn in a pitching duel that was a classic, even if you discount the balata ball.

Wynn was removed for a pinch-hitter in the 13th, but Flores continued till two were out in the 16th, when he finally had to have help from Roger Wolf. However, the A's had clipped Ray Scarborough for two runs in the meantime for a winning margin.

In the National league at New York it was young Sid Gordon who highlighted the Giants 11 to 3 conquest of the Boston Braves by walloping a three-run homer in the fifth inning to place the issue beyond doubt. Joe Burns, who was in semi-pro ball last year, hit a home run for the Braves.

Giants Get Lombardi
The victory lifted the Giants out of the National league cellar and after the game they got another boost by obtaining Catcher Ernie Lombardi, the batting champion, from the Braves for Catcher Ryan Poland and Infielder Connie Ryan.

Rookies brought the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-1 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds. With the score tied 1-1 in the eighth, two freshman pinchhitters, John Wyrostek and Tommy O'Brien delivered singles that brought home three runs.

Seasoned performers dominated other games, although Otto Denning, new at first base even if not new to the American league, was the king pin in Cleveland's 4-2 conquest of the Chicago White Sox. He hit two doubles, drove in the two deciding runs and starred defensively with an unassisted double play, 18 putouts and one assist.

Second for Hughson
Tex Hughson achieved his second victory as the Red Sox handed the New York Yankees their first defeat 5-1 in an odd game in which Boston was held to six hits while the Yanks made 12. Yet New York left 14 runners stranded and would have been shutout except for a three-base error in the ninth by Centerfielder Ford Garrison (a rookie who failed to shine this day).

The Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Phillies 4-2 in a sloppy session marked by seven errors of which four were Brooklyn's. Whit Wyatt made his debut on the mound and was lifted in the seventh inning although he permitted the Phils just four hits and received credit for the win.

Detroit's home bow with the St. Louis Browns, expected to draw 25,000 fans, was postponed and as a partial result the attendance for the "second openers," seven games, amounted to only 45,404, about half of what club officials had expected.

With Mort Cooper hurling five-hit ball for his first victory of the season and his mates pouncing five runs across the plate in the first inning, the world champion St. Louis Cardinals got their home season off on the right note by blanking the Chicago Cubs 7-0 before 6,994 fans.

Metal Tube Keeps Infant Living

Philadelphia, April 28 (AP)—Breathing with the aid of a metal tube without which doctors say she could not live more than a few minutes, eleven-month-old Joyce Westover is a patient in Temple university hospital awaiting an operation for removal of a cyst from her windpipe.

Joyce, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lester Westover, of Newton Falls, Ohio, arrived by plane yesterday from Akron.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)
Otto Denning, Indians—Hit two doubles, driving in deciding runs against White Sox, and also handled 18 putouts and an assist at first base, making one double play unassisted.

Whitlow Wyatt, Dodgers—Struck out three successive batters in first inning jam, singled across one Brooklyn run and allowed only four hits in six innings although he failed to finish against Phils.

Jesse Flores, Athletics—Kept Senators shutout for 15 innings and finally won in 16th with help of rescue by Roger Wolf.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 28 (AP)—Another angle on the dying subject of the dead baseball. . . . During the spring exhibition season, when the clubs still were using 1942 left overs major league teams playing against each other averaged 742 runs and 1554 hits a game (for both teams). . . . Since the advent of the season and the balata ball, the average (up to yesterday's games) was 6.06 runs and 1433 hits.

High score for one team in an exhibition was 13 runs, for the regular season so far, 12 runs. . . . Draw your own conclusions. . . . Ours is that there's not much wrong with the "baloney" ball that a Ty Cobb or Willie Keeler couldn't cure.

CHEAP JOKE

Tony Costa, the Woonsocket, Rhode Island, featherweight who outpointed NBA Champ Jackie Calura Monday night, and his brother, Al, a loser on the same card, have won 35 of their last 39 bouts. . . . Apparently it doesn't "Costa" lot to get bouts with them, but it's an expensive process just the same.

ONE MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

When Wayne university dropped baseball as a non-paying sport, the students took charge and collected enough money to finance a team, so Wayne will play a dozen games this spring. . . . Al Voice, vice president of a Philadelphia Lithographing company, judges fights as a hobby. He said he gives his fee for each fight to charity. . . . The Ogden, Utah, area has 35 former pro baseball players, either at military posts or working in war industries. . . . The Du Pont people have turned thumbs down on Merlyn Condit's plan to return to the football Dodgers next fall. They say he's too important an engineer to be spared for three months. . . . In inviting sports writers to a conference on wartime football Saturday, Howie Odell, Yale grid coach and publicity director, cautions: "Due to food rationing, we must know if you will be at the luncheon."

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

John Mooney, Salt Lake Telegram: "Paul V. McNutt should have had good control to pitch the first ball in opening the baseball season. He's been practicing his control on athletic man-power for several months and he's still in the game."

OVER THE OLD PLATE

When Mrs. John Knight Waters, whose husband, Lieutenant Colonel Waters, is an Axis prisoner, received a trophy at Pimlico's "Johnny Waters' Day," she said it was "a 30-year-old habit in her family. . . . Mrs. Waters' father, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., won several trophies as a rider in Pimlico steeplechases. . . . "I remember those plates very well," she commented, "because when I was a good little girl my father used to let me eat ice cream off them."

SERVICE DEPT.

Capt. Lyman Middleditch, the first official "ace" of the American Air Force in Tunisia, was Stevens Tech tennis captain in 1936 and 1937 and the latter year his team was undefeated until the final match of the season. . . . Marine Lieut. Ted Lyons, the former White Sox flinger, is sporting a pistol sharpshooter's medal on his tunic—which shows he still has control, and not just on Sundays, either.

COACH IN SERVICE

Monessen, Pa., April 28 (AP)—Frank Janosik, Monessen High School Basketball coach, reports today at Fort Schuyler New York, to begin service as an ensign in the U. S. Navy. A former Waynesburg college court star, he coached Monessen to the Section 4 title in the WPIAL last season.

BOTTOMLEY'S UP

Jefferson City, Mo., April 27 (AP)—It's that old chant, Bottomley's up at Bourbon, Mo., again. Sunny Jim Bottomley, former St. Louis Cardinal first baseman who later served with Cincinnati before retiring to farm life at Bourbon, is a newly-appointed trustee of the federal Soldiers' Home at St. James, Mo.

MANY BILLS GET APPROVAL

Harrisburg, April 28 (AP)—Setting up of child care centers by the State Council of D-fense for children of war workers passed the Senate 27-13 despite Democratic opposition last night and went to Governor Martin.

Termining the measure "a mockery" because it would "place the cost of home-ownes," Senator Elmer J. Holland (D. - Allegheny) argued that local units of government already have their budgets made up and will be unable to finance the centers.

Also sent to the Governor by the upper chamber was a measure exempting a wagon or truck drawn by a tractor for transportation of agricultural products from automobile registration fees.

Approved and sent to the House were proposals to:

Set up a new system of assessment for counties from the fourth to the eighth class and provide annual instead of triennial assessments.

Permit persons who were qualified in 1938, or before, to take examinations for nurse's certificates.

Provide for payment by the commonwealth for Pasteur treatment against rabies.

Transfer administration of the State Aeronautical code from the Revenue department to the Public Utility commission.

Require that local governments and the Public Utility commission

WAVE MAY GIVE FLEET TROUBLE

Louisville, Ky., April 28 (AP)—A number of the neighbor's children were agreed definitely today that while the Wave may not sink the Fleet in Saturday's 69th Kentucky Derby, he's going to make it keep up a full head of steam to reach port in front.

Count Fleet is still head man of the nine definite and two possible starters for the $75,000 stake, but Ocean Wave looked good when he cake-walked home with the derby trial mile yesterday by nine lengths over a dozen other derby entrants.

In spite of the racked heel with which he came out of the race—an injury trainer Ben Jones tossed off as "nothing much at all"—the horse set have changed its argument from "Who's going to chase the Fleet home" to "Ocean Wave might grab it all."

The Count, however, didn't do a bit of harm to his position as a favorite yesterday when he splashed through a mile-and-a-quarter in 2:07, with his regular jockey Johnny Longden just sitting aboard and grabbing a handful of hair. The Wave rolled through the trial mile in 1:38 1-5.

OFFICER USED TANK SHELTER

Butler, Pa., April 28 (AP)—A young Army officer from Philadelphia, among a group of 246 combat-wounded service men who arrived at the Army-operated Deshon General hospital Saturday, said Tuesday he lay wounded on a north African battlefield for five hours while "shells fell all around me."

He is First Lieut. Edgar Malin, 27, a tank unit commander who in peacetime was a chemist for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company at Newark, N. J. Wounded in the legs, he was awarded the Purple Heart medal and the Silver Star.

"There were just two of us in my tank—my driver and myself," he said. "I was up in the turret working the machine gun."

"Took Pills and Cussed"
"A 75-millimeter shell hit the driver's periscope, killing him. It also hit me in the right foot."

"The tank stopped . . . but I kept on firing . . . then another shell hit. This time it was shrapnel. It got me in the knee of my other leg. I couldn't stand up any longer. I got out of the tank and under it. Then the artillery really cut loose."

During his five-hour wait there, he said "I took 24 sulfa pills and cussed everybody."

Rubber Situation "Tight," Is Warning

Washington, April 28 (AP)—Warning that the rubber situation may remain critical until next year, members of the Truman committee today projected a continuing inquiry into reports that the administration of tire and gasoline restrictions is being relaxed.

"Most people seem to have the idea that the rubber problem is all solved," said Senator Brewster (R-Me.), "but I don't think we're out of the woods yet by a long shot."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) expressed belief that the rubber situation might remain tight until early 1944, and Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said rubber Director William M. Jeffers would be asked to justify recently liberalized tire and recapping provisions when he testifies next Monday on the synthetic rubber vs. aviation gasoline programs.

Approved and sent to the House were proposals to:

Set up a new system of assessment for counties from the fourth to the eighth class and provide annual instead of triennial assessments.

ERNIE LOMBARDI HAS HOME LOT TO FIT HIS BAT

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, April 28 (AP)—Although it has taken him 12 major league seasons to do it, slow-moving Ernie Lombardi now is a resident of the baseball park tailored to fit his batting.

The big catcher, a powerful right-handed hitter to left field, was traded to the New York Giants by the Boston Braves last night and now will aim at the nearest target for an orthodox batter in the major leagues.

He cracked 20 home runs while with the Cincinnati Reds in 1939 where the left field foul line ambles on for 328 feet and he bated 11 last year with the Braves where the fence is 340 feet from home plate. But at the Polo grounds, his new home, the barrier is only 297 feet away.

Lombardi, who led the National league in hitting both in 1938 and last season, came to the Giants in a swap for rookie catcher Hugh Poland and utility infielder Connie Ryan. Ryan cost the Giants a reported $40,000 a year ago and Poland was hailed as one of the best catching prospects to appear in a Giant training camp in years this spring.

Lombardi, a holdout until 10 days ago, joined the Braves a day before the season opened and is not in playing condition.

Acquisition of Lombardi is expected to give the Giants some of the punch it lost when catcher Harry Danning and first baseman Johnny Mize were inducted into the armed forces this spring. In the four games in the present season, the Giants have hit for a collective average of .228 with Manager Mel Ott's .538 setting the pace.

Husband Kills Wife As She Ends Prayer

Philadelphia, April 28 (AP)—Mrs. Helen Catherine Palumbo, 30, died Monday night of stab wounds which police said were inflicted when she met her estranged husband in the rectory of the Catholic Church of the Annunciation to pray that they might be reconciled.

The husband, Thomas Palumbo, 38, Cramp's shipyard worker who boxed as Tommy Rocco, was in a serious condition in a hospital his throat slashed with the 10-cent knife which, according to police, killed his wife.

Bystanders Hurt In Bandit Chase

Philadelphia, April 28 (AP)—Two youths, captured after a stolen car chase in which police bullets wounded three women, were held on larceny charges today.

Olga Goodwin, 39, was shot in the hip and Madeline Tresca, 42, was grazed by a stray bullet as a police car sped through the streets of south Philadelphia. Both were pedestrians. Anna Reilly, 16, said by police to have been a passenger in the car which was being followed, was shot in the shoulder. None of the injuries was reported serious.

The youths arrested were Thomas McCrory, 17, and Harry Gamble, 18.

It was given by Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics to a Fort Myers friend who donated it to the sale.

Churchill Mediates Russo-Polish Break

London, April 28 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill called the Polish premier and foreign minister into conference today for the second day in succession as he devoted practically all his time to an effort to straighten out the diplomatic impasse caused by the rupture of relations between Russia and Poland.

Premier Wladyslaw Sikorski and acting Foreign Minister Count Edward Raczynski were summoned to the Prime Minister's official residence at No. 10 Downing street, where Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden also was expected to join in the talks.

The likelihood that the Polish government would withdraw its request to the international Red Cross for investigation of the report that the Russians murdered thousands of Polish officers at Smolensk was reported by observers who are following the Polish-Russian dispute closely. In any event, the Red Cross investigation would not have been conducted because Russia had not joined in requesting it. Under Red Cross rules all interested parties must join in a request.

WLB ACTS IN PIPER STRIKE

Washington, April 28 (AP)—The War Labor Board said it had assigned a special conciliation commissioner to the Piper Aircraft strike at Lock Haven, Pa., and appealed to the workers to resume full production immediately. The stoppage developed as a result of WLB delay in acting on a proposed wage increase.

Thomas Stuetel was assigned as a special representative of the board to seek a prompt end of the strike.

"This work stoppage," said a WLB telegram to H. I. Smith, official of the AFL machinists union at Lock Haven, "is seriously interrupting the production of essential instruments of war. The products upon which the employees have ceased work are urgently required by the nation. We request the workers to return to their jobs at once."

"Until such production is resumed, the board can take no further action whatever on the merits of the dispute now pending before it. The board calls upon the responsible leaders of the union to convey to the employees this message from

Just Folks

SUPERB BRAVERY
They are so brave who dare to stand
At battle posts by night and day,
Obedient always to command,
With no complaining word to say.
So steadfast they; to duty true,
However hazardous and hard!
They ask no easier task to do,
No safer barricades to guard!
Read what their generals have to say:
"Let never fear your faith disturb
The courage which your boys display
In time of peril is superb!"
On land and sea and in the sky,
Wherever duty bids them go,
To win for freedom or to die,
An uncomplaining will they show.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams
THE UNFINISHED
There is always a sense of triumph which comes to one upon the finishing of anything that means usefulness or progress. The unfinished is as nothing. It is actually as though it had not even been attempted, so far as the thing is concerned, but not so far as the one attempting it is concerned. The human element far surpasses the failure.
The big question in life is not whether a man had attained his goal, reached his objective, or won his particular race—but whether he has striven with a high heart and with a noble purpose.
If it is only the selected few who are given medals in this life, that does not prove that there are not an endless number who deserve as well. As a matter of fact, there are more unrecognized heroes in this world than any of us suspects. We may be contacting several each day of our lives.
Yes, the unfinished is as nothing—unless someone of courage and vision comes along to succeed where someone else has apparently failed. And if each generation did not carry on the work of those preceding, we would still be in the dark ages.
In nearly every new, completed wonder, about which we marvel, there are an endless number of invisible human dreams and achievements. In the same manner as each of us holds within himself the tiny substance of millions of other humans who have long retired into dust.
Created man is an extremely imperfect species. That is why he has not advanced beyond the stage of waging war against his fellow-beings. When he becomes thoroughly intelligent he will think of a better way of getting along with those with whom he does not agree, or with whom he thinks he cannot associate on just terms.
Before the world at this present moment are plenty of unfinished jobs—many of which have been horribly bungled by self-seeking men and nations. Certainly no one need complain because of the lack of opportunity to do something useful and permanent.
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "When Is One Rich?"

War-Vital Soft Coal Crisis Nears Climax On Strike Threat

LEWIS ORDERS FULL STOPPAGE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Washington, April 28 (AP)—The nation's soft coal industry which feeds the fires of war steel production, power generation and transportation moved swiftly toward a wage dispute climax today with the threat of a full scale strike and talk of subsequent mine operation behind bayonet lines.
Thousands of miners already had laid down their tools as a three-man War Labor Board panel took up the case in closed hearings, but as yet the widespread walkouts were not officially regarded as strikes.
But John L. Lewis promised that his United Mine Workers would stage an all-out strike at midnight Friday unless their demands were met and the full WLB debated whether that constituted outright defiance calling for action—or whether it should be ignored, pending an actual shutdown.
The panel had received instructions from the board to begin hearings and proceed until further order before the UMW president announced in New York that the miners would not work without a contract after Friday midnight when a 30-day temporary continuance expires.
Lewis raised the strike threat after the UMW Policy committee demanded withdrawal of the dispute from the WLB, charging the board with "malignant prejudice." He said that as matters now stand there will be no contract after April 30 and "the mine workers will not trespass on mine property in the absence of a contract."
As his threat was suddenly seconded by spokesmen of Illinois' 15,000 Progressive Mine Workers, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and the sporadic walkouts continued to spread, speculation arose as to what the government will do if the strike develops.
Will Hit War Effort
Swift action was expected, with the decision up to President Roosevelt, and some sources said the government probably would move in with military protection for any miners who chose to work. It was pointed out that actual federal operation of the mines is a step taken when the operators raise the shutdown issue and not when the miners walk out.
That such a strike would quickly affect war production was unquestioned. Steel industry sources estimated their reserves would last only two weeks to a month, since full blast operation has prevented building them up. In addition, soft coal provides the primary fuel for many war vital power plants, as well as the principal energy for many types of transportation, including railroads.
The wage issue key to the situation concerns renewal of the Appalachian contract in which Lewis seeks a $2 increase in the basic daily wage, a minimum of $8 a day, pay for underground travel and unionization of minor bosses. The Appalachian fields include mines in Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, eastern Kentucky and Tennessee which hire about 450,000 miners.
However, that contract also usually sets the wage structure in Alabama, Illinois and western Kentucky districts—involving about 150,000 more miners—and dissatisfaction over progress of the Appalachian negotiations was blamed by union spokesmen in those areas for the spreading stoppages.
While little picketing was reported, by late yesterday roughly 60 mines were shut down in the affected areas and approximately 50,000 miners had not shown up for work—bringing estimates that production had been cut between 200,000 and 300,000 tons a day.
In addition, there were indications from most sections that thousands more miners were ready to follow suit Saturday if no solution is reached and union leaders issue an all-out strike call.

JAPS POUNDED AT SALAMUA

(By The Associated Press)
Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters disclosed Tuesday that American and Australian troops now command hills overlooking Mubo village, only 12 miles south of the big Japanese base at Salamua, New Guinea, and Allied patrols have penetrated within six miles of the base itself.
Details of the Allied advance were lacking, and it was not immediately clear whether Gen. MacArthur's forces were preparing a new offensive.
Observers noted, however, that recent communications have stressed the incessant aerial pounding of Japanese troops below Salamua—frequently the prelude to an offensive—and dispatches from Allied headquarters today said United Nations airmen were making 10 to 20 low-strafing sweeps over the enemy daily.
The last sizable action occurred early in February near Wau, 30 miles southwest of Salamua, when the Japanese lost 1,500 troops. At that time, the enemy was reported falling back toward Mubo.
On the Burma front, British headquarters said Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's troops beat off a new Japanese attack south of Buthedaung and inflicted "considerable" casualties on the enemy.

Davis Backs Bill To Boost Pensions
Washington, April 28 (AP)—Sen. Davis (R-Pa.) has asked the Senate Civil Service committee for a prompt and favorable report on a bill which would increase annuities received by retired government employees.
Declaring that he has received "hundreds of letters" from people in all sections of the country urging him to support the bill (S 878), Davis told the Senate that the increased cost of living "bids fair to bring tragedy and want" to persons of fixed income.
Davis had inserted in the congressional record two letters received from retired postal employees and railway mail service workers from Hanover and Harrisburg, Pa. One letter was signed by Jacob R. Barnhart, Hanover, as chairman of a committee of retired postal employees.
The bill would grant 15 per cent increases in annuities to retired government employees.

Ithaca, N. Y. (AP)—The way to a man's pocketbook is through his stomach, the wives of Cornell university professors discovered at a War Bond party.

The hungry profs paid out more than $700.

5-CENT CRIME
Ogden, Utah (AP)—Officer C. S. Beckett, writing an overparking ticket, heard a tinkle and turned to see Miss Lucile Bingham, 18, dropping a coin in the meter.
"Now it doesn't show violation," she offered brightly.
He charged her with obstructing an officer.
It was just an impulse, she told the court—and oh, no! It wasn't her car! She just wanted to help the unknown owner.
The court threw out the charge and warned her to restrain her impulses.

BOMBER CREW, ALL WOUNDED, LIVE THROUGH 66-DAY ORDEAL

By OLEN CLEMENTS
With the U. S. Airforce in the South Pacific, April 18 (Delayed) (AP)—The Flying Fortress co-pilot saluted his commanding officer, Maj. Richard Stepp, of New York city, on Guadalcanal and reported: "Major, we have completed our mission after 66 days."
Sixty-six days of hell were compressed into that sentence by the modest airman, Lieut. Ernest C. Ruiz, of Santa Barbara, California. These segments of an amazing adventure were thus condensed:
Amazing Story
A running, bloody battle on February 9 with eight Japanese Zeros . . . every one of the nine-member crew wounded . . . the bomber badly shot up . . . a forced landing at sea . . . 15 days adrift in rubber rafts . . . provisions exhausted . . . an emergency catch of a bass, a bird and a shark (the shark tasted terrible) . . . weeks on weeks marooned on small coral islands in the heart of Japanese-controlled waters . . . befriended by half starved Melanesian natives who insisted the fliers shave daily (so they did it with broken glass) . . . a native doctor's removal of a bullet with a piece of glass as the surgical instrument . . . a daring attempt of some of the men to reach friendly land in an outrigger canoe, which capsized . . . two more weeks of waiting to repair and replenish supplies.
A new start . . . terrible moments of suspense while a Japanese plane flew low over the canoe (but the feared spray of machinegun bullets didn't materialize) . . . arrival at a new island where a marooned Jap was discovered and killed attempting to flee . . . at long last, a Navy flying boat from Guadalcanal which picked up the men in the canoe . . . then the rushing of food, dropped by army planes, to the others back on the islands . . . and finally aerial return of all to the base they had left "on a routine mission."
Among the nine heroes was Corp. Theodore Edwards, Youngstown, Ohio.

Observe Foot Health Week In Stores Here

Local and county shoe dealers are joining in a nationwide observance this week of National Foot Health Week in which emphasis is being placed upon the relation between proper footwear and workers' health and efficiency.
The current issue of the Boot and Shoe Recorder, trade magazine, quotes Labor department figures from seven states which credit open-toed, high-heeled and other unsafe type of shoe for factory workers with responsibility for a large percentage of industrial accidents.
Comfortable, safe shoes are important in reducing fatigue, which is one of the most important contributors to reduced production, the magazine states. One statistician is quoted saying that through proper care of the feet, efficiency in war work can be raised as much as 10 per cent.

Legislators Are Friends After All

Harrisburg, April 28 (AP)—House members wound up a five-hour session at 2:20 a. m. Tuesday in a jovial mood—forgetting partisan bitterness after ending of a two-week Democratic filibuster.
Despite the late hour, Democrats and Republicans once more visited with each other, laughed at each other's jokes and heaved to a polite line in their legislative dealings.
However, the lawmakers found time to clean up the largest House calendar of the session—acting on 166 bills.

town and in securing support for the community."

New Drive Decisive

The membership committee under Chairman Ralph Z. Oyler was instructed to go through with a planned drive for members and allow the response shown by the drive to determine whether the Chamber will continue or not.

President Sherman urged all merchants of the town to do everything possible to promote the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. The cooperation of the business people in the sale of bonds will "do much to take up any slack that may be felt in the current Second War Loan drive," he pointed out. Stating that every merchant, as far as he has been able to determine, has been helping in the sale, he urged that they redouble their efforts. "Why it should be necessary to solicit personally anybody to buy Bonds is beyond me," Sherman said, "but it is necessary and it is a job we can do."

Attending the meeting were President Sherman, Joseph E. Codori, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, Dr. Frederick Tilberg, Ralph Z. Oyler, C. O. Schweizer, Radford Lippy, Edmund W. Thomas, J. I. Burgoon, Robert E. Berkheimer, Sydney Poppay, Edward Trimmer, G. Henry Roth and Secretary Mrs. Robert P. Snyder.

FOOD PARLEY TO STUDY WORLD'S BIG PROBLEMS

By WADE WERNER

Washington, April 28 (AP)—How the postwar planners of the United Nations food conference next month will approach the task of drawing up a blueprint for a new world free from want was apparent in rough outline today.

In announcing the conference agenda, a State department spokesman made clear that the blueprint will be only a blueprint designed for further study by the governments concerned; that is, the delegates convening at Hot Springs, Virginia, in May 18 will not have the power to bind their governments.

Nevertheless the agenda is global in scope and colossal in its implications.

If all the topics listed were discussed comprehensively and the delegates could agree on recommendations for solution of the problems involved, their labors could produce a plan for the abolition of poverty throughout the world.

Announce Agenda

For the conference proposes to discuss such basic questions as why millions of people are undernourished and how the vast potential food production made possible by technological advances can be placed before those who are hungry.

It approaches these problems from the viewpoint that huge so-called surpluses which, in the past, often caused economic disruption and waste unemployment, were in fact not surpluses at all but simply evidence that the prevailing economic system was failing to put the world's available food into the world's empty stomachs.

The topics listed in the agenda fall under three main heads: 1. Consumption levels and requirements. 2. Expansion of production and adaptation to consumption needs. 3. Facilitation and improvement of distribution.

Haircuts, Shaves By Appointment Only

Lancaster, Pa., April 28 (AP)—You can't get a shave in Lancaster barber shops unless you are an old established customer.

At least one barber has posted a notice saying that only regular customers will be shaved, giving labor shortage as the reason. Other barbers are applying the same rule but haven't posted signs.

In Ephrata, Pa., barbers are so rushed they have revived the practice of giving haircuts and shaves by appointment only.

TWO EXECUTED

Bern, April 28 (AP)—Dispatches from Vichy said Tuesday two young Frenchmen had been executed at Nîmes for sabotage against the railroads and violence against the authorities.

Medium tanks require 500 pounds of rubber, while large bombers need more than 1,200 pounds.

House Has "Cook" And "Kitchen" Too

Harrisburg, April 28 (AP)—Rep. Albert S. Readinger (D-Berks) asked permission to interrogate a colleague on a bill before the House.

"Is Mr. Cook interested in this bill?" inquired Readinger.

"I don't know," answered the member addressed. "My name's Kitchen."

Rep. Homer Cook (R-Erie) is a member of the House but Rep. H. P. Kitchen (R-Northampton) was the sponsor of the bill before the legislators. Readinger corrected himself and resumed his interrogation.

ARMY'S NEEDS NOT YET MET BY PRODUCTION

New York, April 28 (AP)—The Army, instead of accumulating a surplus of munitions, is so far from its needs that it will not be able to furnish all troops with basic equipment until late next year, Lt. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell said Tuesday.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the commanding general of the Army Service Forces asserted categorically "there have been no huge accumulations of stores which could not be moved overseas."

"In point of fact," he added, "we are still not free from difficulties in providing essential cargo for the shipping which is available to us."

Must Maintain Pace

Widespread discussion of recent reductions in the production program for the ground forces, Somervell said, has failed to take into account that the action concerned future schedules, not current production, which is still increasing at a rate of about $100,000,000 a month.

"Moreover, this rate of increase must be maintained through most of 1943 if we are to reach our goal," the general added.

Overseas needs are being met, the general said, but we are providing our own troops in training this year with only a part of major critical items.

Serve All Fronts

"However, our Allies who have been equipping their armies for a much longer period of time should be provided with their capital needs by the end of the year, although our own army will not be so equipped until late in 1944. As this capital equipment is provided, our production rates for the included items will be established to provide the replacement necessary for losses through normal attrition and through battle."

In the southwest Pacific, Somervell said, we are getting out of General MacArthur every plane, every tank, every gun, every round of ammunition that it is humanly possible to send," but he added that the requirements of the troops in Africa also had to be supplied, and "we cannot allow fireside strategists to stampede us into neglecting one theater for the sake of another."

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

Chapter 20

"Sure! Deckerman," Chacon repeated. "She's hire me for rustle cattle from this ranch—long time back; five-six year, maybe. I steal the cattle but she's not pay me. Aguacil she's get after me and I'm leave this country—whit! like the whirlwind! Not see this gringo pig long time. In Naco I see heem and she's give me—"

"Mean to say that five thousand you give me come from Deckerman?"

"Si—is the truth, amigo. She's give me ten thousand pesos—Americano," Chacon nodded with his eyes watching Tubac brightly.

"Hmmm," murmured Tubac reflectively. Then a cold grin flicked back his lips and he said, "I don't savvy what's brought you here now, but if I was you, compadre, I'd see the old rip, an' make him pay me all over. That dinero he give you was fake—make believe money—no good."

The outlaw tongued his lips with a scowl and appeared to be thinking it over. Tubac finished his sad, dogged grin and showed it beneath the stirrup leathers. Then he climbed up into the saddle. "You an' White-Eye git on with that work," he called out to Winch Face, "an' if anyone come pekin' round you give em a tune with your rifles."

He turned to Chacon. "Make yourself at home, compadre. The house is yours."

"Mil gracias, amigo," said Chacon; but Tubac could see he was still thinking how Deckerman had tricked him. The wolf look glittered in his deep-set eyes and the smile on his lips was a grimace.

"Well, take care of yourself," Tubac told him, and kned his horse into the trail.

It was well after noon when he came in sight of the Stampedo out-fits south line camp. The buildings shimmered in the stifling heat, but there was no sign of anyone round them.

But Jones kept a wary eye peeled. Lot Deckerman was slippery and this might very well be a trap he had baited.

But the place really was deserted. There was nobody around, not even the cook; but Winch Face was right—at least partly. There was plenty of sign in the root cellar that the place had been used for a prison. One of the Stampedo punchers must have seen Winch Face. They had gone to hide Blackwater elsewhere.

Jones climbed back into his saddle and sat there a while, grimly scowling. He could try his luck at tracking, or he could ride on over to the Stampede's main ranch. They'd hardly chance holding Blackwater there; but on the other hand, if the prisoner was trailing this bunch of Blackwater—and it probably was—held even less likelihood of profit.

There were tracks of four brons leading out of here. That meant three guards were keeping tabs on the captive. And unless Tubac was misjudging Deckerman plenty, they would not be run-of-the-mill ranch hands; they would be Texans—hardcase hombres. Hired guns who would have all the answers, and then some.

Night, like a black cat's overcoat, hemmed the town in a murk of shadows, but the saloons were still doing business and fiddle screech and boot stamp came drifting out on the wind as Tubac hitched Callope to a shorting-post fronting the largest.

He pushed his way to the crowded bar and tapped on it with his six-shooter.

"Step up," he said, "the drinks are on me," and tossed a handful of gold on the bar.

Then he turned his guile on the fat and aproned bartender, being careful to let enough others hear to make sure the story got round. "Lugubrious of look and with husky voice," he said, "Too dang bad about Deckerman, ain't it?"

"What's that?" asked a man to the left of Jones.

"Why ain't you heard? About his trouble with Chacon?" Tubac snorted. "I sposed it was all over the country by now."

"Chacon?" said the barman. "You mean that slat-sided Mexican bandit?"

"I don't mean his uncle," Tubac told him. "Shucks, I reckon I shouldn't of mentioned it, but I sposed it was common gossip."

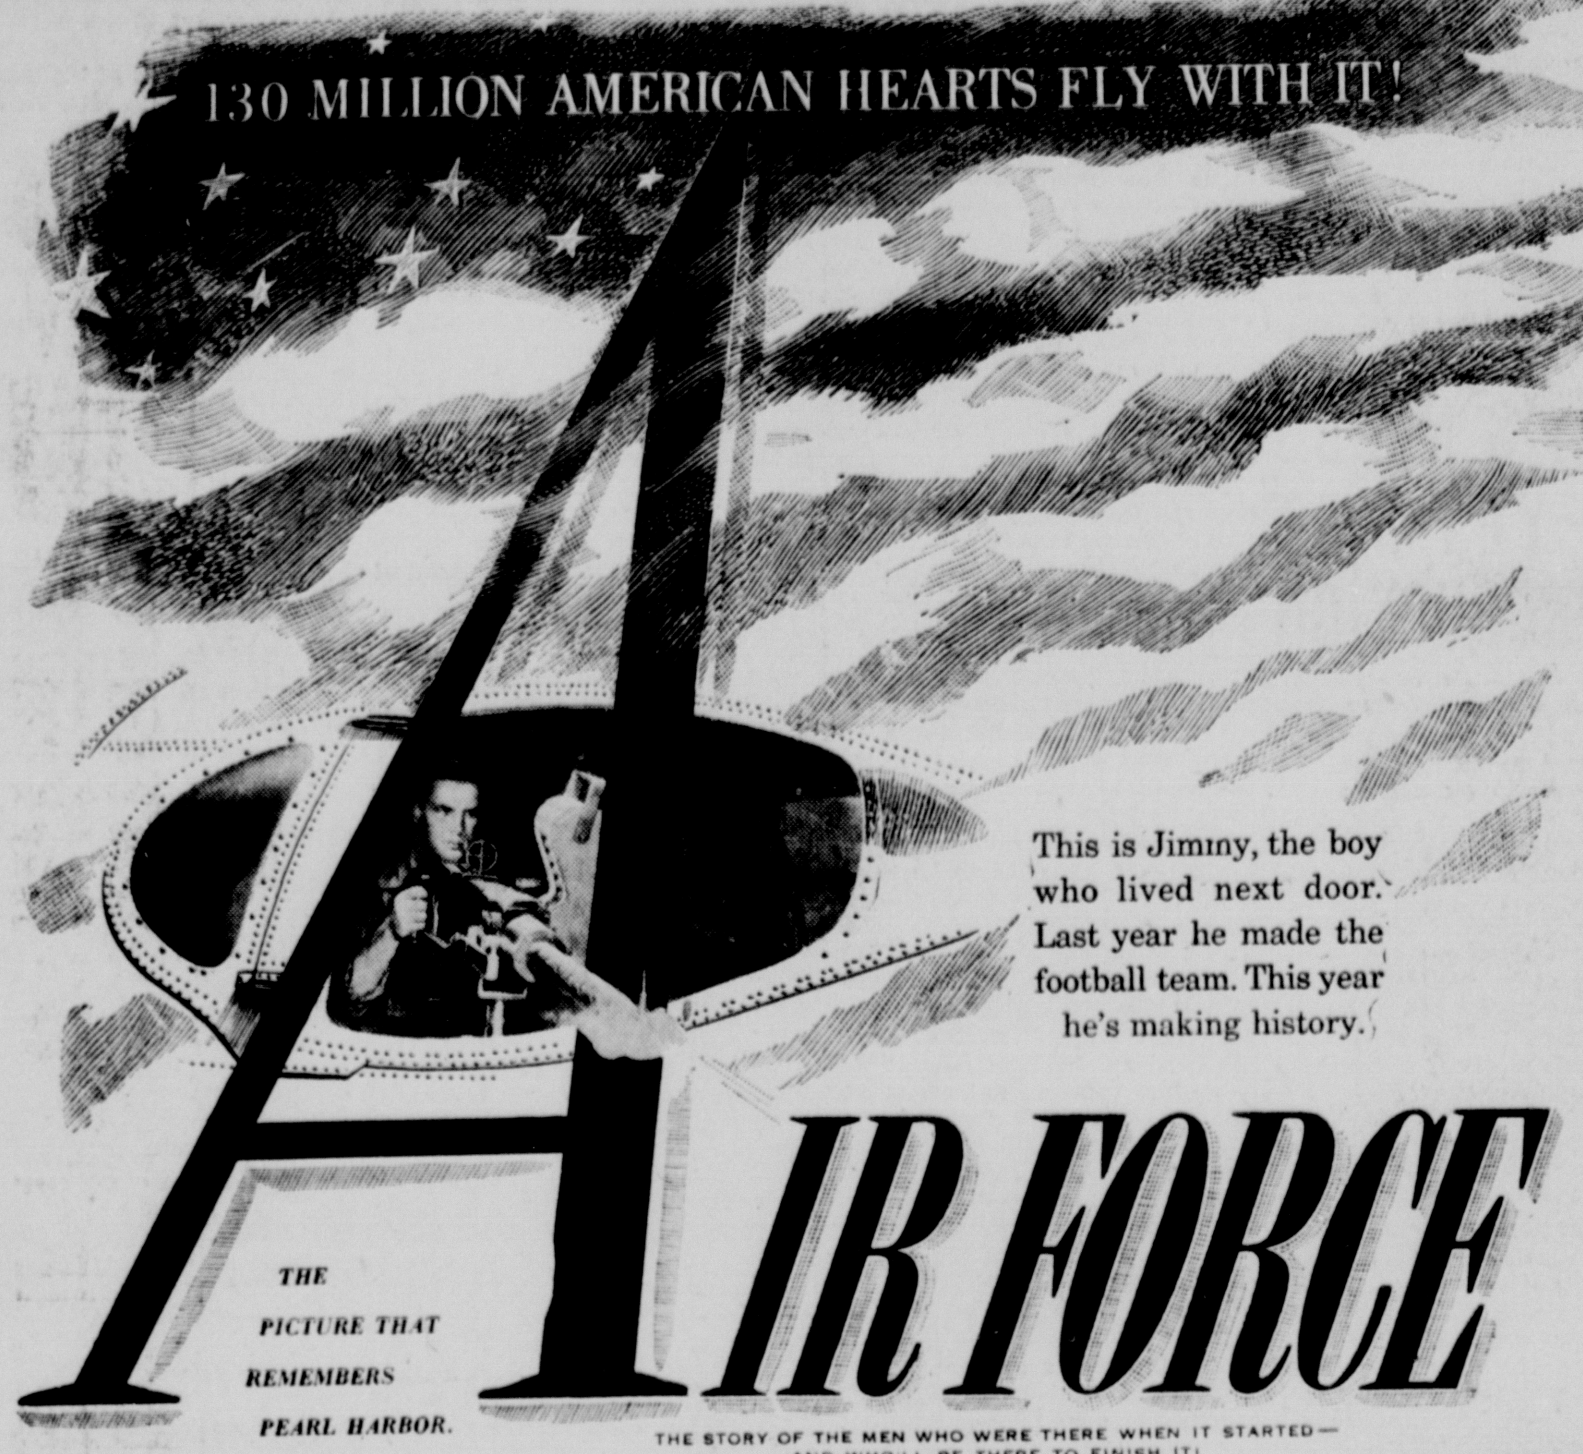

The bartender's eyes had a glint in them. "If it is I ain't heard it. What about em? Deckerman didn't catch him, did he? Gort—there's twelve thousand bucks on that hombre's pelt."

"Chicken feed!" sniffed Tubac. But the barman was not to be put off like that. "What'd you mean when you claimed it was too bad about Lot?"

"Well," Tubac growled, "I suppose it's all of a pattern with the high links Banker Haines has been playin' in," but I was sure surprised to hear Lot had mixed up in it. Seems," he said, raising his voice a little, "Lot—five or six years back—hired Chacon to steal Sam Holeman out the cow business. I guess he would of done it, too, only after the first six months or so

Now that physical replacements are impossible, it is important that you check up on your property—screens, plaster walls, metal flashings and gutters, floors, metal equipment, wooden shingles or siding, foundations of concrete, brick or stone, so that maintenance work may be taken care of and surfaces properly protected. For each surface we have a Pittsburgh "Live Paint" product especially developed to give longest possible service.
Your home and equipment are priceless—it must not be allowed to go unprotected.
To symbolize this need we are staging a Property Protection Week at our store. Please come and see us. We are prepared to help you; have Exhibits and demonstrations to show. Incidentally we are featuring several specials—AMONG THEM A THIRTY CENT CAN OF THE FAMOUS PITTSBURGH SCREEN PAINT FOR 10 CENTS.

DuPont Heiress Gets Nevada Decree

Minden, Nev., April 28 (AP)—Mrs. Alexia Du Pont Ortiz Sharpless Krebs of Wilmington, Del., who charged extreme cruelty, won a divorce Monday from Henrik J. Krebs, whom she married at Elkton, Md., June 30, 1937. The suit was filed last March 19.
Granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Alexia Du Pont, she obtained a divorce in 1937 from Casper Gordon Sharpless of Wilmington. Krebs is a grandson of Henry J. Krebs, founder of the Kress Pigment and Paint Co., now a Du Pont subsidiary.

BIG BOMBERS HIT DUISBURG IN HEAVY RAID

London, April 28 (AP)—Britain's biggest bombers blasted the great German inland port of Duisburg Monday night in "one of the heaviest raids" ever carried out against the Reich, an official British announcement declared Tuesday.
Seventeen bombers were reported missing from the attack, which an Air Ministry communique described as highly concentrated.
The language of the communique indicated that at least 1,000 tons of bombs were dropped on the city, the weight of explosives probably approaching that of the first 1,000-bomber raid on Cologne last May 30 when 1,500 tons of bombs were dropped.

59th Raid There
The night raid followed blows by swift mosquito bombers late Monday at railway centers in northwest Germany, in the Rhineland, and in France near the Loire river. All of the raiding planes returned safely to bases, it was announced.
It was the 59th raid on Duisburg, which is situated 12 miles west of Essen at the junction of the Rhine and Ruhr rivers. The city, which is the site of many heavy war industries and an important communications center, was last bombed the night of April 9, in a raid from which eight bombers failed to return.

Monday night's raid was the first that British heavy bombers had been active since the sweeping assaults on Stettin, Rostock and Berlin last Tuesday night.

Met Strong Defenses
The Air Ministry news service said four-engined Lancaster, Stirling and Halifax bombers and two-engined Wellingtons met "one of the strongest defenses our crews have encountered for some time" in the attack on Duisburg.

Many searchlights were massed both inside and outside the town, the news bulletin said, and a barrage from hundreds of heavy anti-aircraft guns was encountered.
The German communique, heard from the Berlin radio, said several places were raided in western Germany, including Oberhausen and Muelheim as well as Duisburg.
"Residential quarters, hospitals and other public buildings were hit," the Germans said, "the population suffered losses. Fourteen enemy planes were shot down."

Warns Pupils To Consider Own Future

Philadelphia, April 28 (AP)—The Board of Education wants school pupils in the war effort but not at the expense of their future.
Reporting a 22 per cent decrease in high school enrollment since 1940, Dr. Alexander Stoddard, superintendent of public schools, urged in a statement Monday that students consult school vocational advisers before leaving to take jobs.
"After the war there may be no 80 cents an hour," he commented.

STUDY SCHOOL FINANCE

Harrisburg, April 28 (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill to set up a 14-member legislative commission to study the financing of Pennsylvania's school system by the state and local school district. A $25,000 appropriation is provided for the inquiry.

AIR WAR AT NEW PEAK ON RUSSIAN BATTLE FRONTS

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, April 28 (AP)—Aviation activity had reached a new fury on the Soviet-German front Tuesday as Russians, with increased air strength, continued to blast Nazi forward and rear positions and communications.

The most intensive action still was in the Kuban region of the Caucasus. Red Star, the Army newspaper, said that following great air losses, the German air activity in the Kuban slackened after April 22 but Russian activity increased.
The dispatch related that the Germans concentrated masses of bombers and fighters, mostly Focke-Wulf 190's and Messerschmitt 109G's in the Taman peninsula, the Crimea and Kerch strait area airdromes.
These and land troops made a series of futile attacks against the Red Army lines in the Kuban valley last week, it was said.

Lost Hundreds
Observers asserted that the Red Air Force had struck the German air arm such a sudden and heavy blow in the Kuban that Hitler's whole plan of air support for the Kuban counterattack has collapsed, at least for the present.
Soviet airmen made raid after raid on the German airdromes and the enemy was reported to have lost hundreds of planes.

Land fighting in the Kuban region was confined currently to artillery duels and sniping.
Fighting on the other fronts also was in a lull, with artillery exchanges along the Donets river line and west of Rostov.

TO CHECK COSTS OF INSTITUTIONS

Harrisburg, April 28 (AP)—Legislators who check appropriation bills will visit every state-owned and state-aided institution in Pennsylvania this summer to find ways of cutting the 1945-47 budget.

At Governor Martin's request Senator Leroy E. Chapman (R-Warren) and Rep. Norman Wood (R-Lancaster), chairman of the Senate and House appropriations committee, will start work on the next budget immediately after the close of the present assembly session.
"We feel we will be able to save the state considerable money by making an investigation of all institutions to gather ammunition for the time when we call on department heads to justify their budget requests," declared Senator Chapman.

He said the financial statistics, maintenance costs and personnel records would be examined at all state-aided hospitals, colleges, sanitariums, historical projects, homes for invalids, children and the aged, and penal institutions.
Chapman said committee members living in the vicinity of state-aided institutions would be asked to participate in the examination of nearby projects.
